New Ericsson Nikola Tesla contracts worth EUR 4 million

Ericsson Nikola Tesla has signed new contracts worth EUR 4 million. The contracts pertain to communication networks and the digital transformation of society.

With HT Mostar, the long-standing successful cooperation continues with works related to support services for the maintenance of Ericsson solutions in fixed and mobile networks. This will, to the satisfaction of the end users of this operator, enable simpler and more agile management and maintenance of network systems.

Several contracts have been signed on the domestic market in the field of digital transformation solutions. As part of the multi-year program of cadastral surveys, a project of cadastral surveys on the island of Korčula was contracted with the State Geodetic Administration. New contracts were also signed with the Ministry of the Interior, as well as in the field of digital transformation of public services, healthcare, the financial industry and the delivery of communication equipment for business systems.

Ericsson Nikola Tesla continues to contribute to the further development and availability of digital technologies and services through contracted activities.
